Grant Pathway — Privacy Policy

Version: 1.6

Effective date: 7 August 2026

Last updated: 7 August 2026

1. Who We Are

Grant Pathway is a free online tool that helps UK charities write grant applications. It is provided by RapidGlobe Ltd, a company registered in England and Wales.

Company name	RapidGlobe Ltd
Company registration number	05615649

Registered address	Ground Floor Suite, Crown House, 40 North Street, Hornchurch, Essex RM11 1EW
ICO registration number	ZC168720
Data protection contact	admin@rapidglobe.com

RapidGlobe Ltd is the data controller for the personal information you provide when using Grant Pathway. This means we decide how and why your data is used, and we are responsible for keeping it safe.

2. What Information We Collect

Information you give us

When you register and use Grant Pathway, you provide:

- Your name — your first and last name, collected when you register. We use them to address you by name in emails and in the service
- Your email address — used to create and identify your account
- Your password — stored only as a secure one-way hash. We never see, store, or have any way to recover your actual password
- Your organisation's details — the name, description, whom you help, and where you work, as entered in your organisation profile
- Grant application content — funder guidelines you upload or paste in, and the answers you write and refine within the tool
- Any AI-suggested improvements you choose to accept, and any further edits you make, before saving your answer
- Your feedback preference — whether you tick the optional box at registration saying you are happy to be contacted about your experience of using the service. This is entirely optional, ticking it is not a condition of using Grant Pathway, and you can change your mind at any time (see Section 8)

Information we collect automatically

- Usage data — a count of AI-assisted requests made per account each month, used to manage the fair-use limit
- Session data — a secure token stored in your browser that keeps you signed in while you use the service
- Error reports — if something goes wrong, limited technical information about the error may be collected to help us diagnose and fix the problem

Where we get your information from

Almost everything we hold comes directly from you — you type it in when you register, complete your organisation profile, or work on an application.

There is one exception. If you enter your charity's registration number, Grant Pathway may look that number up in the public register maintained by the Charity Commission for England and Wales and pre-fill some of your organisation's details, to save you typing them again. This is optional — you can leave the registration number blank and enter everything yourself. The information returned is public register data about the organisation, not about you personally, and we only use it to populate your organisation profile.

We do not buy personal information, receive it from data brokers, or obtain it from any other third-party source.

We do not collect payment information. We do not use advertising trackers. We do not build profiles for marketing purposes.

3. How We Use Your Information

We use your information to:

- Provide the service — create your account, save your organisation profile, generate AI-assisted summaries of funder guidelines and refine the answers you write on request, and let you export completed applications
- Maintain the service — monitor for errors, manage the fair-use limit, and keep the system running reliably
- Communicate with you — send a welcome email when you register, and a warning email if your account is approaching the two-year inactivity threshold (see Section 7)
- Keep the service secure — detect and prevent fraudulent or abusive use of the platform

We do not use your information for marketing. We do not sell your data. We do not use your information to train artificial intelligence models.

4. Legal Basis for Processing

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), we must have a legal basis for processing your personal data. We rely on the following:

Processing activity	Legal basis
Creating and managing your account	Contract — necessary to provide the service you have signed up for

Processing activity	Legal basis
Saving your organisation profile and application content	Contract — necessary to deliver the core features of the service
Sending service emails (welcome, inactivity warning)	Contract / Legitimate interests — necessary to operate the account lifecycle and keep you informed
Managing the fair-use limit	Legitimate interests — necessary to manage running costs and ensure fair access for all users
Error monitoring and security	Legitimate interests — necessary to keep the service reliable and protect against abuse
Recording your feedback preference, and contacting you about your experience if you opted in	Consent — we only do this if you ticked the optional box at registration. You may withdraw your consent at any time, and doing so has no effect on your ability to use the service (see Section 8)

Where we rely on legitimate interests, we have considered whether the processing is necessary, whether it could reasonably be achieved another way, and whether it would override your interests or rights. In each case above the processing is limited to what is needed to run the service safely and within cost, and we are satisfied it does not.

5. Who We Share Your Information With

We do not sell your data. We do not share it for advertising or marketing purposes. We work with a small number of trusted third-party service providers who process data on our behalf:

Provider	What they do	Where they are based
Supabase	Stores your account, organisation profile, and application data	United Kingdom (London)
Amazon Web Services (Bedrock)	Powers the AI features that summarise funder guidelines and help refine the answers you write	United Kingdom / European Union
Resend	Sends transactional emails (welcome email, inactivity warning)	United States
Vercel	Hosts the Grant Pathway web application	United States (with global edge network)
Sentry	Captures error reports to help us diagnose and fix	European Union

Provider	What they do	Where they are based
	technical problems

Each provider is bound by a data processing agreement and is only permitted to use your data to deliver the service to us — not for their own commercial purposes.

A note on AI processing: When you ask Grant Pathway to summarise funder guidelines or help refine an answer you have written, the relevant content (funder guidelines and your organisation profile) is processed by Amazon Web Services using the Anthropic Claude model via the Amazon Bedrock service. This processing takes place within the United Kingdom (AWS eu-west-2, London) under normal operating conditions, and never outside the European Economic Area under any circumstances. Your email address is never sent to the AI processing layer. Anthropic does not use this data to train its AI models — this commitment is upheld through the AWS and Anthropic terms governing the Bedrock service.

6. International Data Transfers

Two of our service providers are based outside the United Kingdom — Resend and Vercel (both United States). Where personal data is transferred to these providers or any in future we might substitute for these if we change providers in due course who are outside the United Kingdom, we ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place — typically the UK’s International Data Transfer Agreement (IDTA) or equivalent EEA standard contractual clauses — so that your data continues to be protected to the same standard as within the UK.

AI processing (Amazon Web Services Bedrock) takes place within the UK or EEA and does not constitute an international transfer.

Error reports processed by Sentry are stored in the European Union, which is covered by the UK’s adequacy decision for EU/EEA countries — no additional transfer mechanism is required.

7. How Long We Keep Your Information

Data	Retention period
Account details and organisation profile	Until you delete your account, or until the inactivity deletion policy applies (see below)
Application content	Deleted when your account is deleted
AI usage log	Deleted when your account is deleted

Data	Retention period
Your name and feedback preference	Deleted when your account is deleted
Automated backup copies	Permanently removed within 7 days of account deletion, as part of standard backup rotation (see below)
Email delivery records	Held by Resend in accordance with their standard retention policy (up to 90 days)
Error reports	Retained for up to 12 months for diagnostic purposes, anonymised where possible

Inactivity deletion: If your account has not been used for two years, we will send a warning email to your registered address. If you do not log in within 30 days of that warning, your account and all associated data will be permanently deleted. You will receive no further warning before deletion occurs.

Account deletion on request: You can delete your account at any time from within the service. Your data is removed from our live systems immediately and permanently. As part of our operational backup infrastructure, automated backup copies are permanently removed within 7 days as part of the standard backup rotation cycle. These backup copies are not accessible to users and cannot be used to restore deleted content.

It is recommended that you store any information that may be deleted separately if you think you may need to use it after it is deleted as set out above.

8. Your Rights

Under UK GDPR, you have the following rights in relation to your personal data:

- Right of access — you can request a copy of the personal data we hold about you
- Right to rectification — you can ask us to correct inaccurate or incomplete data
- Right to erasure — you can ask us to delete your personal data (you can also do this directly by deleting your account within the service)
- Right to restriction — you can ask us to limit how we process your data while a concern is being resolved
- Right to data portability — you can ask for your data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format
- Right to object — you can object to processing based on legitimate interests
- Right to withdraw consent — where we rely on your consent, you can withdraw it at any time. The only processing we base on consent is contacting you about your experience of the service, if you opted in at registration. You can withdraw that consent by emailing us, and it will not affect your account or your ability to use Grant Pathway in any way

- Rights related to automated decision-making — Grant Pathway does not make automated decisions that have a legal or similarly significant effect on you

Which of these rights apply depends on the legal basis on which we rely for the processing in question — Section 4 sets out the basis for each activity. Withdrawing consent does not affect the lawfulness of anything we did before you withdrew it.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us at admin@rapidglobe.com. We will respond within one month of receiving your request. We may need to verify your identity before we can process it.

There is no charge for exercising your rights in most cases.

9. Cookies

Grant Pathway uses a small number of cookies that are strictly necessary to operate the service:

- Authentication cookie — a secure, encrypted token that keeps you signed in during your session. This cookie is deleted when you sign out or when your session expires.

We do not use advertising cookies, analytics cookies, or any third-party tracking technology. Because we only use cookies that are strictly necessary for the service to function, we are not required to ask for your consent to set them — but we want to be transparent about their use.

10. Changes to This Policy

If we make significant changes to this policy — for example, if we add a new category of data or a new service provider — we will notify you by email before the changes take effect.

Minor or clarificatory changes may be made without advance notice. The updated policy will always be available at grantpathway.org.uk, and the “Last updated” date at the top of this page will reflect when it was last changed.

12. How to Complain

You have a right to complain to us about the handling of your personal data by emailing admin@rapidglobe.com.

Grant Pathway is provided by RapidGlobe Ltd (company number 05615649), registered in England and Wales.
